

We have worked very closely with our customers on their BREXIT requirements since last year and will continue to do so, as the likely outcome remains unclear.

We are ahead of the process insofar as our team of dedicated BREXIT experts are as business-ready as they can be, to deal with a favourable or hard BREXIT outcome.

This team is headed up at Executive Team level with input across all functions such as Sales & Account Development, Information Communication & Technology, Operations and Finance along with knowledge and experience from our in-house Freight Forwarding division.

We are fully aware that each supplier will have different requirements and we look forward to discussing these with you.

Some of our customers have already secured contingency space across our facilities in the event of a No-Deal or hard BREXIT outcome.
